

Winnepesaukee Yacht Club Race Committee

The Winnepesaukee Yacht Club is pleased to invite all sailors to the 2015 JBT Regatta and Auction for the benefit of The Cure Starts Now. This is a super charity selected by Jesse and Alison Thompson and their families which supports research into rare childhood brain cancers. Please check out their website, www.thecurestartsnow.org for more information.

This year's even will be held on July 18th and will feature a reverse start PHRF sailboat race and a huge benefit auction. Festivities will kick off with registration, coffee and snacks at the clubhouse on Dockham Shore Road in Gilford, beginning at 0800 and continuing until 1000 at which time our opening meeting to discuss course descriptions and other details of the race.

The first sailboats (based on their individual handicap) will start racing at 1130. If you have a sailboat and want to participate, please join us. We plan a leisurely, reverse start sail with lots of great prizes and loads of fun. The format is intended to foster a low key, stress free competition, and, we really want a big turnout on the water for the race. Even if you are not normally a racer, come and join us (and bring some friends!).

There is a $40.00 entry fee for boats participating in the race. Tax deductible donations to The Cure Starts Now will be gladly accepted. There will be a silent Auction at the WYC Clubhouse, and immediately following the event there will be a cookout, live music, and a huge live benefit action. We have received some amazing donations and this years auction items are spectacular.

We are proud to support the efforts of The Cure Starts Now, and hope that this event will be memorable for all of you for our great venue, top notch event administration and terrific onshore activities.

Please mark your calendar and come out and support the mission of The Cure Starts Now which is to support the research necessary to eradicate rare childhood cancers including DIPG.

We hope that you will give generously, partake heartily, and enjoy thoroughly.
